

Sustainability has a new face.

West Bay bevel products are made from the same high-quality Western Red Cedar that you've come to expect from West Bay.

FEATURES

Our cedar bevel is the perfect option for siding. It's manufactured in either rough or smooth textures that highlight the natural beauty of Western Red Cedar. It's also easy to finish with a variety of coating options, allowing you to customize for your desired look.

All of our bevel is sub-bundled and end-capped, with installation instructions provided for those who need a little extra help.
