

We've got you covered.

West Bay Channel products are crafted from high-quality Western Red Cedar, which is known for its superior beauty and durability. This tight-knot fibre is carefully selected to meet our quality standards and is milled and processed to create beautiful pattern stock items.

FEATURES

Cedar Channel siding is a versatile product that can be installed vertically, horizontally, or even diagonally. It's ideal for projects looking for a rustic appearance.

In addition to a pleasing aesthetic, it provides excellent weather protection due to its partial overlap coverage upon installation and natural resistance to the elements.
